The Games of the XXIVth Olympiad began September 17, 1988 with gala Opening Ceremonies at Seoul's Olympic Stadium. They were the result of seven years and five months of preparations.

Staged amidst some 100,000 spectators - and with billions of people watching by broadcast worldwide - the Opening Ceremonies were packed with touching moments.

After parading by boat on the Han River, the Dragon Drum Procession came into view at 10:30 a.m. Dancers performed rhythmic dance harmonizing ancient times and global solidarity, while a mass game enhanced the festived mood.

The official events of the Opening Ceremonies started when 13,304 athletes and officials from 160 countries marched in.

The SLOOC President Park Seh-jik spoke to the crowd, and IOC President Juan Antonio Samaranch delivered a welcoming address.

President Roh Tae Woo then declared the Seoul Olympic Games to be open. The sacred flame, carried from the Temple of Hera in Olympia, Greece, ignited the torch in the Main Stadium's huge cauldron.

The spectators were treated to seven programs: "A Great Day," "Chaos," "Beyond All Barriers," "Silence," "New Sprouts," "Harmony" and "One World." The vocal group Koreana sang the Olympic song "Hand in Hand" to bring down the curtain on the Opening Ceremonies.

Perfect facilities, fine weather and dedicated service by volunteer workers combined to produce a very successful 24th Games; during 16 days of heated competition, athletes shattered 33 world and 227 Olympic records.

9/17

Five official sports and taekwondo (a demonstration sport) were staged on the first day of the Games. With 12 gold medals at stake, 441 boxers from 106 countries entered into competition at Chamshil Students' Gymnasium. Byun Jong-il of Korea won the first round in bantamweight on points. In the women's platform diving preliminary, 12 divers, including Chen Xiaodan of the People's Republic of China, qualified for the finals.

In basketball at Chamshil Gymnasium, the People's Republic of China outpointed Egypt, 98:84, while Brazil easily defeated Canada.

In the Group A preliminary of men's volleyball at Hanyang University Gymnasium, Korea lost to Sweden 2:3 after a fierce battle of three hours and 10 minutes. In the men's Group B preliminary, the Netherlands defeated France.

Football preliminaries were held at Kwangju, Pusan, Taejon and Taegu, spreading the Olympic festival atmosphere all across the country. In Pusan, the Federal Republic of Germany defeated the People's Republic of China, 3:0, while in Kwangju, Italy outclassed Guatemala, 5:2. In Taegu, Sweden and Tunisia fought to a 2:2 draw, as did Iraq and Zambia in Taejon.

In the taekwondo demonstration competition, Korea captured three golds and one silver in four weight classes. Gold medalists included Choo Nan-yool in the women's flyweight division, Ha Tae-kyung in the men's flyweight division, and Chung Kook-hyun in the men's welterweight division. In the women's welterweight class, American Arlene Limas won the gold and Kim Ji-sook of Korea brought home the silver.

9/18

The first official gold medal of the Seoul Olympic Games came in shooting. In women's air rifle, Irina Chilova, an unheralded competitor from the U.S.S.R. captured the gold; her victory ceremony was televised. In men's free pistol, Sorin Babii of Rumania caught the world by surprise when he earned a gold medal by outpointing world record holder Igor Bassinski of the U.S.S.R.

Chun Byung-kwan of Korea established an Olympic record in 52-kilogram weightlifting, giving Korea the first Olympic silver of the Games. Sevdalin Marinov of Bulgaria captured the gold, setting a world record in that division.

In the 100-kilometer team road race at the Tongil-ro cycling circuit, the German Democratic Republic pedaled for gold in one hour, 57 minutes and 47 seconds.

In women's platform diving, Xu Yanmei of the People's Republic of China dove for a gold medal.

The football preliminary between Korea and the U.S.S.R. at Pusan Stadium ended in a scoreless tie; in Kwangju, Australia defeated Yugoslavia, 1:0; and in Taegu, the U.S.A. and Argentina fought to a 1:1 draw. In Taejon, Brazil defeated Nigeria, 4:0.

In men's basketball, underdog Yugoslavia defeated the U.S.S.R. The U.S.A. outpointed Spain, Australia trounced Puerto Rico, and Korea lost to Central Africa.

In gymnastics, Vladimir Artemov of the U.S.S.R. scored a perfect 10 on parallel bars.

The competitions on the second day comprised 12 sports. Five gold medals were awarded.

9/19

In the men's 200-meter freestyle final, unheralded Australian swimmer Duncan Armstrong stroked his way to a world record of 1:47.25, winning a gold medal coveted by world-class stars Michael Gross of the Federal Republic of Germany and Matthew Biondi of the United States.

Kristin Otto of the German Democratic Republic brought home the gold in the women's 100-meter freestyle to begin her medal collection. Janet Evans gave the United States its first gold in swimming by winning the women's 400-meter individual medley.

In springboard diving, Gregory Louganis of the United States sustained a frightening but minor injury when he hit the springboard. Cha Young-chul of Korea captured the silver in men's free rifle, prone.

In a basketball preliminary, Korea defeated Australia, 91:55; in volleyball, Korea defeated Brazil, 3:2.

Wrestlers competed in five events. In taekwondo demonstration matches, Chinese Taipei took the gold in the women's fin class final. In women's lightweight, the United States placed first and Denmark second.

In the football preliminary, Zambia achieved a 4:0 upset victory over Italy. Third-day events comprised 12 sports and produced seven gold medals.

9/20

Competition on the fourth day involved 18 sports, and athletes took part in nine finals.

Despite the head injury he suffered while diving from the springboard, Los Angeles double gold medalist Gregory Louganis managed to claim two golds again.

Naim Suleymanoglu, a Bulgarian who lives in Turkey, rewrote the record book six times (in snatch, clean and jerk, and total) in the 60-kilogram weight category of the weightlifting competition.

In the final of the men's gymnastics team competition, the U.S.S.R. earned the gold with an incredible seven perfect 10s. The U.S.S.R. also captured golds in shooting, wrestling and cycling, bounding into the early lead in the medal race with six golds.

In wrestling, An Dae-hyun of Korea secured the bronze in 62-kilogram Greco-Roman, while Kim Young-nam advanced to the September 21 finals with four straight wins and one draw in the 74-kilogram division.

In men's Group B handball competition at Suwon Gymnasium, Korea outlasted Hungary, 22:20.

In boxing, bantamweight Song Kyung-sop of Korea scored an RSC win in the first round.

In men's coxed pair rowing, the Abbagnales brothers of Italy finished first at the Han River Regatta Course. Korean women volleyball players defeated the German Democratic Republic, 3:1, in a preliminary at Hanyang University Gymnasium.

9/21

Korea captured its first gold of the Seoul Olympics. In 74-kilogram Greco-Roman wrestling, Kim Young-nam defeated heavy favorite Daoulet Tourlykhanov of the U.S.S.R. to give the host country its initial touch of gold. In 52-kilogram Greco-Roman, compatriot Lee Jae-suk won the bronze.

Weightlifter Angel Guanchev of Bulgaria established a world record in the 67.5-kilogram category. In the men's 100-meter butterfly, Anthony Nesty of Surinam captured the gold; in the 400-meter individual medley, Tamas Darnyi of Hungary, despite blindness in one eye, set a world record to win a gold medal. The United States earned its third swimming gold by winning the men's 4x200 meters relay.

In women's gymnastics team competition, Elena Chouchounova powered the U.S.S.R. to victory. The Soviets swept the team competition for both men and women.

The last match of the Group A football competition was held in Taegu; Sweden defeated the Federal Republic of Germany.

In women's handball at Suwon Gymnasium, Korea topped Czechoslovakia, 33:27.

Korea trounced the Federal Republic of Germany, 4:1, in women's hockey at Songnam Stadium.

Korean boxer Kim Kwang-sun scored an RSC win in the flyweight second round, but teammates Oh Kwang-soo and Park Byung-jin were eliminated.

9/22

Kristin Otto of the German Democratic Republic became a triple gold medalist by earning golds in the women's 100-meter backstroke and 4x100 meters freestyle relay. Janet Evans of the United States won the women's 400-meter freestyle with a world record, and compatriot Matthew Biondi finished first in the men's 100-meter freestyle, both to take their second gold medal.

Wrestler Kim Sung-moon of Korea captured the silver in the Greco-Roman 68-kilogram class; Kim Sang-kyu, also of Korea, won a bronze in the Greco-Roman 82-kilogram class.

The bantamweight boxing contest between Byun Jong-il of Korea and Alexandar. Hristov of Bulgaria was controversial. Disagreement over the decision sparked a protest and unruly behavior by the Korean coach and workers.

Korea's 2:1 football loss to Argentina excluded the host team from the eight-squad play off lineup. But the Korean men's handball team thrilled spectators at Suwon Gymnasium with a dramatic come-from-behind win over the German Democratic Republic.

Mitko Grablev of Bulgaria was stripped of his 56-kilogram class weightlifting gold medal after he tested positive for drugs.

9/23

The seventh day featured 16 sports, with a dozen gold medals to be decided in five sports. Athletics competition with a total of 42 medals at stake, started with seven events.

The first gold medal in athletics came in the women's marathon. Rosa Mota of Portugal finished first in the relatively slow race, followed by Australian Lisa Martin and Kathrin Doerre of the German Democratic Republic.

In the men's 20-kilometer walk, Czechoslovakia captured the gold; the silver went to the German Democratic Republic and the bronze to Italy.

In men's shot put, the German Democratic Republic won the gold, the United States finished second and Switzerland was third.

The French fencers finished first in men's sabre. In shooting, the U.S.S.R. won the gold in men's rapid fire pistol.

In men's running game target, Norway finished first, followed by the People's Republic of China and the U.S.S.R.

The German Democratic Republic swimmers earned gold medals both in the men's 400-meter freestyle and women's 100-meter butterfly, while first place in the men's 200-meter breaststroke went to Hungary (Great Britain was second and Spain third). Bulgaria won the gold in the women's 100-meter breaststroke, and U.S. swimmers won the men's 4x100 meters freestyle relay.

The day's spotlight was focused on the individual all around contest between gymnastics superstars Elena Chouchounova of the U.S.S.R. and Daniela Silivas of Rumania. The contest was close until the final event, the horse vault, in which Silivas scored 9.95, but Chouchounova a perfect 10.

9/24

Athletes competed in 16 sports, eight of which had finals with a total of 30 golds.

The day saw two world records and the emergence of a five-time gold medalist.

In the men's 100 meters final, the focus of worldwide attention, Ben Johnson of Canada finished first in 9.79, and Carl Lewis of the United States came in second at 9.92.

Jackie Joyner-Kersey of the United States won the women's heptathlon, finishing first in the 800 meters and establishing a world record of 7,291 points.

In gymnastics, Park Jong-hoon made the day bright for Korea when he won a bronze in the horse vault, scoring a perfect 10 on his second try.

Vladimir Artemov of the U.S.S.R. won two golds in parallel bars and horizontal bar; with golds in team competition and individual all around, Artemov emerged as a quadruple gold medalist.

Swimmer Kristin Otto of the German Democratic Republic finished first in the women's 4x100 meters medley relay and became a five-time medalist.

Angel Guanchev of Bulgaria tested positive for drugs, which cost him the gold medal in the 67.5-kilogram weightlifting. Earlier, Mitko Grablev, also a Bulgarian lifter, was stripped of his gold medal in the 56-kilogram class for doping.

9/25

On Chusok, Korea's most celebrated national holiday (equivalent to Thanksgiving Day), a total of 25 gold medals, including five in athletics and seven in rowing, were awarded.

In judo competition, Kim Jae-yup of Korea defeated Kevin Asano of the United States for a gold medal in the extra lightweight class. Kristin Otto of the German Democratic Republic continued her spectacular feats of swimming; she tallied her sixth gold medal in the women's 50-meter freestyle, defeating world record holder Yang Wenyi of the People's Republic of China with a finish of 25.49.

Matthew Biondi of the United States won the gold in the men's 400-meter medley relay, emerging as a five-time medalist.

In athletics competition, Florence Griffith Joyner of the United States won the women's 100 meters in 10.54. In the men's 400-meter hurdles, an event dominated by Edwin Moses of the United States for the past 12 years, Andre Phillips, also of the United States, earned the gold.

9/26

Athletes competed for 12 golds, including eight in athletics. In judo, Lee Kyung-keun of Korea attained a gold medal in the half lightweight class. Paul Ereng of Kenya captured the gold in the men's 800 meters with a time of 1:43.45, outrunning Joaquim Cruz of Brazil. In the men's long jump, Carl Lewis of the United States retained the title he won during the Los Angeles Games. In the men's 110-meter hurdles, Roger Kingdom of the United States won with a time of 12.98 to hold onto his Olympic title. Officials needed photo-finish to determine the results of the 82-kilometer women's individual road race after 45 cyclists reached the finish line almost simultaneously. Eventually, the gold went to Monique Knol of the Netherlands, the silver to Jutta Niehaus of the Federal Republic of Germany and the bronze to Laima Zilporitee of the U.S.S.R.

9/27

The day sent waves of shock and disillusionment to billions of television viewers around the world. Ben Johnson, who set a world record of 9.79 seconds in the men's 100 meters final September 24, failed a dope test; the IOC stripped him of his gold medal. In the first drug examination, conducted shortly after the sprint, Johnson tested positive. The second test showed the same result. At about 10 a.m. he left Seoul through Kimpo International Airport. Gregory Louganis of the United States repeated as gold medalist in the men's springboard diving. Shortly after the gold medal was hung around his neck, Louganis announced his retirement. Gold medals were also earned in equestrian, fencing, judo, swimming and weightlifting. The day saw athletes competing in 17 sports.

9/28

Eighteen sports were featured, offering 15 gold medals. Kim Soo-nyung of Korea smashed the world record in the women's 50-meter single round archery by scoring 336 points. In athletics, the United States swept the men's 400 meters; Steven Lewis finished first in 43.87, Harry Butch Reynolds came in second at 43.93 and Danny Everett crossed the line third in 44.09. In the men's 200 meters, Joe DeLoach of the United States established an Olympic record with a time of 19.75 to earn a gold medal that Carl Lewis had hoped to claim.

In the women's 400-meter hurdles, Debra Flintoff-King of Australia came in first at 53.17, a scant 0.01 second ahead of Tatiana Ledovskaia of the U.S.S.R. Only after looking at the electronic scoreboard was Flintoff-King certain she had finished first. In the pole vault finals, Sergey Bubka of the U.S.S.R. won the gold with an Olympic record of 5.90 meters; Soviets swept the medals in this event. Since 1983, Bubka has bettered his own world records nine times.

Powered by Anja Fichtel, the Federal Republic of Germany took the women's fencing foil team title. Six days earlier, Fichtel also won a gold in individual foil.

In the team jumping finals held at the Seoul Equestrian Park, the Federal Republic of Germany won the title with 17.25; the medal represented the nation's sixth gold in Seoul. It was the first team jumping gold finish for the Federal Republic since the 1972 Munich Games.

The Federal Republic of Germany earned four of the six golds at stake for equestrians in Seoul.

In connection with another doping scandal, Hungary sent 10 lifters home; the action followed the announcement by the IOC Medical Commission that Andor Szanyi, silver medalist in the 100-kilogram class, tested positive for anabolic steroids.

9/29

Athletes competed in 16 sports for 14 gold medals.

The Korean women's handball team defeated the U.S.S.R., 21:19, to win a gold for the first time in an Olympic ball game. At the Los Angeles Games, the Korean team finished second.

In the women's volleyball final, Peru took lead in the first two sets but lost the third, fourth and fifth sets to the U.S.S.R.

In the women's basketball final, the United States outpointed Yugoslavia, 77:70, to bring home the gold.

Florence Griffith Joyner of the United States finished first in the women's 200 meters final with a world record time of 21.34. Responding to cheers from spectators, Joyner circled the track in a victory lap.

In the women's long jump, Jackie Joyner-Kersey turned in an Olympic record of 7.40 to add a gold to the title she won in the women's heptathlon.

In the women's discus throw finals, Martina Hellmann of the German Democratic Republic broke an Olympic record with a throw of 72.30 meters: the silver went to teammate Diana Gansky.

Hungary won the gold, the U.S.S.R. the silver, and Italy the bronze medal in the men's fencing sabre team competition.

In the finals of the over 110-kilogram weightlifting competition, Alexandre Kourlovitch of the U.S.S.R. lifted 212.5 kilograms in snatch and 250 kilograms in clean and jerk for an Olympic record total of 462.5 kilograms. The previous record was 440 kilograms. Wrestling yielded three golds. In the 48-kilogram freestyle final, Japan's Takashi Kobayashi defeated Bulgaria's Ivan Tzonov to win the gold. In the 62-kilogram freestyle, John Smith of the United States defeated Stepan Sarkissian of the U.S.S.R. for a gold. In the 90-kilogram freestyle, Makharbek Khadartsev of the U.S.S.R. earned a gold by scoring a fall over Japan's Akira Ota.

The 14th day was packed with action in 16 sports, and victorious athletes claimed 24 gold medals.

Korea won golds in women's archery and table tennis. The hosts swept medals in the women's individual archery; Kim Soo-nyung scored 344 points for gold, Wang Hee-kyung won the silver with 332, and Yun Young-sook took the bronze with 327. The trio were all high school students.

In the men's individual archery competition, Jay Barrs of the United States took home the gold and Park Sung-soo of Korea won the silver.

In the finals of women's table tennis doubles-its first appearance as an official Olympic event-Koreans Hyun Jung-hwa and Yang Young-ja outpointed a heavily-favored Chinese pair, Chen Jing and Jiao Zhimin, 21:19, 16:21, and 21:10.

Korea lost the final women's hockey match to Australia, 0:2, but the team's silver medal was treasured because it came during the Korean squad's Olympic debut.

The Soviet men's basketball team, losers in a preliminary game with Yugoslavia, won revenge against the Yugoslavians in the final 76:63, to earn the gold medal.

Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia defeated Tim Mayotte of the United States, 3:1, to capture the gold in men's singles tennis-a sport returned during the Seoul Games after a 64-year absence.

In rhythmic gymnastics competition, Marina Lobatch of the U.S.S.R. scored a perfect 60.00 to collect the gold medal.

Canada's Carolyn Waldo scored 200.150 to capture the gold for solo synchronized swimming, and Trade Ruiz-Conforto of the United States placed second with 197.633.

In the 52-kilogram freestyle wrestling final, Japan's Mitsuru Sato defeated Yugoslavia's Saban Trstena to earn a gold medal. Kenneth Monday of the United States defeated Adlan Varaev of the U.S.S.R. for the 74-kilogram title. Vasile Puscasu of Rumania won over Leri Khabelov of the U.S.S.R. in class the 100-kilogram division. During the day, six gold medals were awarded for canoeing. In the finals of men's 500-meter kayak singles, Hungary's Zsolt Gyulay finished first in 1:44.82. Olaf Heukrodt of the German Democratic Republic won the men's 500-meter Canadian singles with a time of 1:56.42.

In the finals of women's men's 500-meter kayak singles, Vania Guecheva of Bulgaria was the winner with a time of 1:55.19. New Zealand won the 500-meter kayak pairs, while the U.S.S.R. brought home top honors in the men's 500-meter Canadian pairs. The German Democratic Republic won the women's 500-meter kayak pairs.

Olga Bondarenko of the U.S.S.R. won the gold in the inaugural running of the women's 10,000 meters finishing in 31:05.21.

In the men's 3,000-meter steeple-chase, Kenya finished first and second; Julius Kariuki, the gold medalist, established an Olympic record of 8:05.51, only 0.1 second behind the world record established by a Kenyan 10 years ago.

Louise Ritter of the United States set an Olympic record of 2.03 meters in the women's high jump. In the women's 100-meter hurdles, Jordanka Donkova of Bulgaria captured the gold with an Olympic record of 12.38. In the men's 50-kilometer walk, Viacheslav Ivanenko of the U.S.S.R. finished first with an Olympic record of three hours, 38 minutes and 29 seconds.

10/1

With the Games swiftly drawing to a close, athletes battled for 39 gold medals on the second-last day of the competition. It was a fruitful day for the host country's entrants.

Korea swept the golds in archery team competitions for both men and women. Kim Soo-nyung, Wang Hee-kyung and Yun Young-sook, who finished 1-2-3 in women's individual competition, struck gold as a team with 982 points – a 30-point margin over second-place Indonesia.

Chun In-soo, Lee Han-sup and Park Sung-soo accumulated 986 points to win the men's team archery competition.

The final of men's table tennis singles was a contest between Koreans Yoo Nam-kyu and Kim Ki-taik. Yoo was the winner, 3:1.

Korea's Han Myung-woo defeated Turkey's Necmi Gencalp for a freestyle wrestling gold medal in the 82-kilogram class.

Soviet women streaked to a world record finish in 3:15.18 to win the 4x400 meter relay, while in the men's 4x400 meters, U.S. runners tied the world record of 2:56.16.

In the women's 400-meter relay, Florence Griffith Joyner of the United States won another gold to become a triple medalist.

Kenya finished first in the men's 1,500 meters and 5,000 meters; in the 1,500 meters, Peter Rono won with a time of 3:35.96, and in the 5,000 meters, John Ngugi clocked a winning 13:11.70.

Rumania's Paula Ivan took the women's 1,500-meter gold medal with an Olympic record time of 3:53.96.

For the first time since the Melbourne Games of 1956, the U.S.S.R. won the football title, defeating Brazil, 2:1.

In the men's handball final, Korea lost to the U.S.S.R., 32:25. The Great Britain beat the Federal Republic of Germany in men's hockey, 3:1.

In the women's tennis singles final, Steffi Graf of the Federal Republic of Germany defeated Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina, 2:0, to win the gold medal. In the men's tennis doubles final, Ken Flach and Robert Seguso of the United States defeated Spain's Emilio Sanchez and Sergio Casal, 3:2, after close games.

Six canoeing golds were determined as follows:

In the men's 1,000-meter kayak singles, Greg Barton of the United States finished first in 3:55.27; Barton also won the gold in the men's 1,000-meter kayak doubles with a time of 3:32.42.

Birgit Schmidt of the German Democratic Republic won the gold in women's 500-meter kayak fours. One day earlier, Schmidt took the gold in women's kayak pairs.

In men's 1,000-meter Canadian singles, Ivan Klementiev of the U.S.S.R. finished first; the Soviet men also won the 1,000-meter Canadian pairs.

Yugoslavia retained its Olympic water polo title by defeating the United States, 9:7. The gold medal for synchronized duet went to Canadians Michelle Cameron and Carolyn Waldo. In the judo heavyweight final, Hitoshi Saito of Japan defeated Henry Stoehr of the German Democratic Republic to garner his second Olympic gold.

10/2

Nine finals were conducted on the final day of the Seoul Games. Italy's unheralded marathon runner, Gelindo Bordin, finished first in a hotly contested race. The 42.195-kilometer marathon featured several world-class marathoners including Douglas Wakiihuri, Japan's Takeyuki Nakayama, and Houssein Ahmed Saleh of Djibouti. From the 39-kilometer mark on, Bordin displayed amazing speed, finally overtaking Saleh just two kilometers from the finish line and entering the Olympic Stadium to the cheers of spectators.

In the individual jumping final of the equestrian competition, Pierre Durand of France defeated Karsten Huck of the Federal Republic of Germany for a gold-his fourth win since the Tokyo Games of 1964.

The U.S. men's volleyball team suppressed the Soviets, 3:1, to win its fourth consecutive victory in major world competition since 1984. They had won the previous Olympics, World Cup and World Championship. In boxing finals, Korea's Kim Kwang-sun won the gold in flyweight and Park Sihun captured the gold in the light middleweight class. However, Association Internationale de Boxe Amateur (AIBA) named Park's opponent, Roy Jones of the United States, the best player.

The two golds Korea won on the final day brought the host country's medal count to 12, fourth among all the competing nations.

The 16 days of the Olympic competition drew to a close, leaving behind memories of the countless human dramas which grew from the interaction of some 9,700 athletes from all parts of the world.

As the sacred flame was extinguished, the story of the Seoul Games became matter for the history books.

Notes on the digitized version of the Official Report of the Organizing Committee for the Games of the XXIVth Olympiad Seoul 1988, Volume 2 – Competition Summary and Results.

The digital version of the Official Report of the Games of the XXIVth Olympiad was created with the intention of producing the closest possible replica of the original printed document. These technical notes describe the differences between the digital and printed documents and the technical details of the digital document.

The original document

The original paper version of the 1988 Official Report (Volume 2) has dimensions of 10.2 x 14.9” (26 cm x 38 cm).

The volume’s spine is of blue cloth. The words “Official Report Games of the XXIVth Olympiad Seoul 1988” and “2 Competition Summary and Results” appear in gold on the spine.

The book has 728 pages.

The fonts used in the digital version book for text, photograph captions and chapter headings are Helvetica and such system fonts as best approximate the original fonts.

Special features of the digital version:

- The spine is not included in the digital version.
- Blank pages are not included in the digital version.
- The digital version includes a bookmark list that functions as a hyper linked table of contents. Selecting a topic heading will take you to the corresponding section in the document.
